Specialists at scale: what Version 1 can do for Aon

Bringing new digital products to market. Enhancing customer experiences. Mitigating risk. There's a lot to think about when you're driving an Aon-wide transformation programme. That's why you need specialists at scale - capable people across multiple geographies who offer deep technical expertise and second-to-none industry knowledge.

At Version 1, that's what we deliver. And we've been doing in partnership with Aon's Strategy Technology Group for the past two years. But there's so much more we can do...

Deep industry experience

15 years

supporting one of Europe's largest insurers

We understand your priorities

Minimise time to revenue

Streamline development and get revenue-generating products to market faster.

Maximise efficiency

Harness the power of new and emerging tech to drive key operational improvements.

Modernise and transform

Make the leap to the cloud, rationalise your app strategy, and keep costs under control.

> “Version 1 have been a key supplier for us at Tyche over the last year, as we’ve scaled out our team. They’ve helped us across the entire software delivery process, from BAs to Developers, DevOps and Testers”

Chris Heneghan, Software Development Director

How can we help? By...

Getting it done

Delivery is what we do. From application modernisation to multicloud migration and more, we can help you get the job done - on time and on budget.

Staffing for success

Whether it’s data engineering or Dev Ops, you need the right people with the right skills and experience. We offer all three - with deep domain knowledge to boot.

Integrating innovation

GPT-enhanced code conversion. AWS’ machine learning tools. Whatever the tech, if it can benefit Aon then we can help you understand and integrate it.
